

Professional Designers

A passion for design. A design for your passion.

Let Your Passion Show!

Creating the space of your dreams with a qualified, professional designer should be fun and rewarding. Here are a few suggestions on how to get the most out of your relationship with your Morris Black designer.

Set an Investment Goal

Make this step one, before you begin your project. Your designer cannot give you budget-friendly advice without a bottom line.

Show Your Designer What You Like

Convey your needs, your preferences, and your vision in both words and pictures. Collect photos from magazines, Pinterest, Houzz and Instagram to illustrate your design ideas. This will give your designer a place to start in creating a design, especially for you.

Keep an Open Mind

Be open to new and unique ideas. Your designer will come into the project with a fresh viewpoint and a lot of knowledge and experience and may suggest an out-of-the-box idea.

When you Have a Plan, Stick to It

Once underway, changes cause extra expenses and delays. Review the final version carefully; once you are satisfied and understand the project scope thoroughly, move ahead with confidence knowing that you have an experienced team supporting you every step of the way.

Picking the Perfect Partner for your Remodeling Project

Why It Pays to Work with a Professional Designer

Remodeling projects can range from upgrades to elaborate transformations, a process that can be overwhelming and quite stressful. The myriad of product choices and design options available nowadays can make the final decision difficult to come by. That's why so many homeowners are choosing to work with a professional kitchen & bath designer to alleviate the stress of choosing the right products for your home renovation. A professional designer can ensure that you are investing your time and money with the right products.

A designer who is certified with the kitchen & bath industry offers an added value of comprehensive knowledge in space planning and innovative, costeffective solutions. When choosing a designer, look for a professional NKBA-trained and certified kitchen & bath professional. This designer should come from a reputable firm that has been in business for many years. Ask to see past projects, a portfolio and references. Morris Black is proud of our team of highly-experienced design professionals. Here's what Morris Black Designs will bring to your project:

- Local and national award-winning designers who understand the latest design trends, finishes and innovative products.
- Skill in listening carefully to your needs and ideas and translating them into unique plans that are functional, beautiful and complement your lifestyle.
- Beautiful plans, perspectives and other drawings to help clarify and visualize concepts and designs.
- Recognition of the importance of consumer health and safety in design, as well as leading-edge, eco-friendly products.
- An understanding of all local codes and regulations, including NKBA standards, safety and environmental issues.
- Experience in coordinating colors and textures to create pleasing palettes that bring your design to life.
